

Missouri River Basin Mountain Snowpack Water Content 2011-2012 with comparison plots from 1997*, 2001* and 2011

Total above Fort Peck

Total Fort Peck to Garrison

The Missouri River Basin mountain snowpack normally peaks near April 15. Normally, 61 percent of the peak accumulation has occurred by February 1. On February 6 the mountain snowpack in the "Total above Fort Peck" reach is currently 85 percent of normal and the "Total Fort Peck to Garrison" reach is currently 95 percent of normal.

* Generally considered the high and low years of the last 20-year period.

February 6, 2012

Provisional data. Subject to revision.